Cite 29-year-old for kin murder

The body of Dennis Gerken, 8, who lived with his dad and step-mother on Hunt Club Rd., just east of the village of Antioch, was found at 4 a.m. on Thursday, Aug. 9.

His step-brother, Ralph Nau, 29, has been arrested by the Lake County Sheriff's Dept. for his murder and is presently being held in the Lake County jail without bond, awaiting a competency hearing later this week.

The boy, who was reported missing at 10:39 p.m. on Aug. 8, lived with his father and step-mother, Kenneth and Shirley Gerken, owners of the Gerken Egg farm.

His parents told the Lake County Sheriff's Dept. that Dennis had gone to bed at 8:40 p.m. and a short while later they found that he was missing.

Sheriff's deputies, noting a patch of freshly over-turned dirt about three-tenths-of-a-mile behind the farm house, discovered the boy's body in a shallow grave, covered with mud, a few hours later.

The Lake County Coroner's report said that Dennis had died from head injuries causing blood traumas inside of the skull. Nau allegedly killed the eight-year-old by (Continued on Page 2)

Lucky winners receive prizes at Lions' fete

Thirteen turned out to be a lucky number for that same number of people came home from the Antioch Lions bar-b-que just a little bit richer, having won prizes in the raffle.

Chris Faulkner of Antioch took home a new video recorder and Charles Bruns of Lake Villa has been much cooler these past few hot nights because of the air conditioner he won.

Ken Torkelson of Antioch was able to watch the Olympics on a brand new tv set and Helen May and Sean Mullins are ready for the summer and winter as she won a new lawn mower and he got a snow blower.

Kay Rieken of Antioch has lots more time for fun because of the time saving microwave oven that was her prize and if you hear beautiful music when you visit the First National Bank of Antioch it is probably coming from the AM-FM radio that was its prize.

Tim Osmond took home a barbecue. Be sure to secret the Lions' sauce recipe away to go along with it.

And Jim LaFond no longer has an excuse for anything less than an impeccable yard with that newweeder he won.

J. Prahl, McHenry, M. Pease, Trevor, and J. Wick and T. Henggeler of Antioch, finished the prize list by winning a wheelbarrow full of sugar and other miscellaneous prizes.

Pay medical bills

Musicians, fans raise money for Harris

by GLORIA DAVIS

Joe Harris was one of those entertaining piano players who not only "sang for his supper" so to speak, but he also "had a joke a minute and never the same one twice."

Then five years ago he had a bout with cancer, one that, until just this week, carried a pending decision.

The treatments following his operation caused a blockage that periodically kept the flow of blood and oxygen from reaching his brain.

When this would happen, Joe would collapse and, at times, came close to knocking on death's door.

But Joe's fine sense of humor was still there even though he could no longer sing along with his flying, ivory-tickling fingers.

A few months ago, as Joe's health seemed to continue on the downgrade, even his comedy sense seemed to be on the wain.

It was finally decided that the staff at Mayo Clinic in Minnesota might be able to accomplish what local doctors could not, and two weeks ago Joe started packing for the trip.

Joe never quite finished that packing because the effort was evidently too much and he suffered an extremely serious collapse. A helicopter was immediately procured and Joe was flown to Mayo Clinic.

According to Ken Mazzuca, of the 911

Club in Antioch, the doctors at the clinic were successful and Joe's blockage problem was not only eliminated with the proper medication but a thorough examination has given him a clean bill of health as far as cancer recurrence is concerned.

There is still one problem though, a mountain of medical bills, the final astronomical total still to come in.

Mazzuca said that Joe used all his insurance benefits for the cancer treatments and the trip and treatment at Mayo Clinic is considered to be a continuation of the same program so those costs are not covered.

But the many friends and fans that Joe made through the years have come to the rescue. On Aug. 12, an all-day benefit was held at the 911 Club off Rte. 173.

Six bands, refreshments, games and prizes were there to raise money to help the medical bills.

Musicians and friends were donating time and other places in Lake County where Joe had entertained not only had a "jug on the bar" with Joe's name on it, but they also contributed help, food and liquor for the benefit party.

Even before the big fund raising event, there was already $1,700 in the fund.

Mazzuca said that Joe hoped to be there on the big day if his doctors would allow him to be.

Wedding

Geist—Masopust

Katherine Geist, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Les Geist of Antioch, became the bride July 21 of Michael Masopust, son of Diane Shunneson of Bristol and Al Masopust of Lake Shangri-la.

The afternoon wedding was performed at St. Peter's Catholic Church, Antioch. Maid of honor was Karen Goth of Lake Villa, who was a high school classmate of the bride. Best man was the groom's brother Brad Masopust of Fox Lake.

The bride's chiffon dress was trimmed and scalloped in lace, and was accented with small pearls, which were sewn on by the bride's mother. The veil also had lace and pearl trim and was caught to a pearl crown, which had been the bride's mother's. All the silk flowers for the ceremony were arranged by Karyn Geist.

The bride's parents' home on Cross Lake was the site of an outdoor reception.

The new Mrs. Masopust attended Illinois Wesleyan University last year and currently is attending the College of Lake County to pursue a degree in accounting.

The groom and bride both graduated from Antioch Community High School. He is employed by J. P. Graham Contractors.

The couple is at home in Antioch.

Chicago Medical School begins move for hospital

by MICHAEL H. BABICZ
Regional Editor

Procedures are underway to have a 200-bed teaching hospital specializing in secondary and tertiary health care on the campus of the University of Health Sciences/The Chicago Medical School (UHS/CMS), located in North Chicago.

City officials of North Chicago and business leaders from throughout the county expressed their support of the project during a press conference held at the UHS/CMS on Aug. 9, announcing that the first steps toward construction are underway.

Wayne Smith, executive vice president of Humana Inc., said that a application for a certificate of need has been filed with the federal government.

The process for obtaining the certificate generally takes about six months, and with the approval of the federal government, construction could begin as soon as the certificate is received with a completion date expected to be sometime within 18 months to two years.

Humana Inc. is a $2.3 billion corporation which owns and operates 89 acute-care community hospitals throughout the United States, England, Switzerland and Mexico. Humana has been obtained by the Chicago Medical School Hospital Inc. to develop the hospital.

North Chicago Mayor Bob Thompson said of the proposal, "We're very happy to have the Chicago Medical School building a hospital."

"We hope that they can build it in a fast manner so that they will be able to employ the people they say they can," he added, referring to the estimated 600 to 700 persons that the hospital is expected to employ once it is fully operational.

"I, as mayor, endorse the plan," he concluded.

Bob Miehe of the National Bank of North Chicago, treasurer of the North Chicago Chamber of Commerce, revealed that the Chamber has unanimously endorsed the concept plan during a board meeting.

"We're proud to have the medical school in the community and equally proud to have the hospital talked about coming to the community," Miehe said.

"We're excited about the economic benefits which it will bring," he added.

"We look forward to working with the medical school and stand ready to assist the medical school in any way possible," Miehe concluded.

Bob Byrne of AMMCO Tools Inc., North Chicago Chamber president, termed the move by the medical school to have a hospital connected with it as "a phenomenal thing."

"The additional care it will be able to give to the residents of the area will be of great help, particularly in the critical care areas, meaning possibly saving lives," Byrne said.

"It will be a remarkable economic asset," he added. "The University of Health Sciences/The Chicago Medical School has proven itself to North Chicago that it is an excellent corporate citizen."

Charles Isley, president of the Waukegan/Lake County

Chamber of Commerce, said that the County Chamber stands "supportive of the efforts" of the medical school and will "continue to support its efforts" during the move for construction of the hospital.

Pom Poners compete

The Antioch Community High School Pom Pon Squad competed Aug. 5 in the Allstate Open Pom Pon Competition before a crowd of more than 28,000 spectators. The annual competition is part of the Wisconsin State Fair.

A total of 45 pom pon squads from throughout the Midwest participated in this event and competed for monetary awards and trophies. They danced, kicked and shook their pom pons in practiced precision to the song "Ghostbusters."

The day-long competition ended with Ev Robinson, personnel manager at the Milwaukee Regional Allstate Office, and Fairest of the Fair Heidi Scadden presenting first place awards ($200 to each winning school), trophies, and commemorative gold charms to Joliet West High School of Joliet in Class A (over 1,100 students) and Montini High School of Lombard in Class B.

Competitions like this one give recognition to the hard-working, talented young women athletes of these high school pom pon squads. Their endless energy, enthusiasm and smiles added spirit and color to the 1984 Wisconsin State Fair.

Wisconsin Gov. Anthony S. Earl proclaimed Aug. 5 as "Pom Pon Appreciation Day" in honor and appreciation of the fine achievements of the Midwest pom pon squads. Congratulations to the Antioch Community High School Pom Pon Squad on their excellent performance.

Carmel High School for Boys will be the site of a Loyola University evening course for adults, "The Church in Today's World."

The class will meet Thursday evenings from 7 to 9 p.m. for 15 weeks beginning Aug. 30.

The cost will be $65 plus a

Those who complete the course will earn two credit hours from Loyola University.

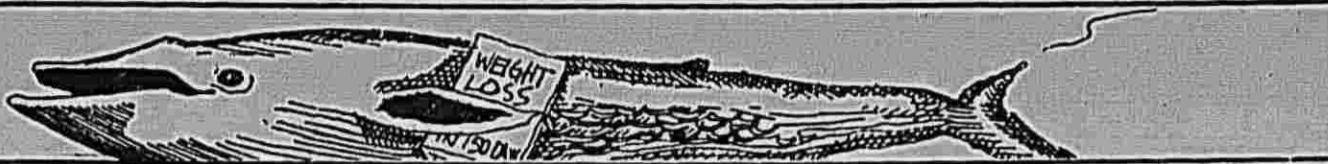

The course is sponsored by the newly formed Ministry Center of Lake County as part of an effort by local residents to fill the void in adult religious education in Lake County.

Jaycees will sponsor boating safety course

The Antioch Jaycees and Antioch Parks and Recreation will sponsor a Boater's Safety Course, on Aug. 18 and 25.

Area residents will have an opportunity to learn boating safety basics at a department of conservation boating safety course scheduled from 8:30 a.m. to 1:30 p.m. on Aug. 18 and 25, at the State Bank of Antioch, according to Terry Dayton, coordinating instructor for the class.

State legislation which became effective in 1978, requires that persons 12 through 17 years old have a Boating Safety Certificate before they can operate a motor-driven boat without adult supervision. The certificate is issued by the department of conservation to persons who successfully complete the boating safety course.

"This is an excellent opportunity for young people who need the course to comply with the law," Dayton said. "The course is open to the public and anyone, regardless of age, may take the course to brush up on their boating safety habits."

The eight-hour course includes instruction in rules of the water, Illinois boating law, first aid, safety afloat, boating construction and design and other topics too that will help make participants safe boaters.

Further information about the course is available by contacting the coordinating instructor at (312) 395-0212.

When I think about it Olympic patriotic boost just what country needs

by GLORIA DAVIS

By the time you read this the 1984 Summer Olympics will just be a memory.

And time will have proven those people wrong who claimed that the two-week extravaganza that had us all glued to our TV sets was really a Hollywood based mini-series.

At least no other show full of sparse gold-medal harvests for the USA, reminiscent of other Olympic Games, has made an appearance.

The Mary Lou Retton dolls probably have already appeared in the stores and Los Angeles will have sunk back into a more normal chaotic state.

Unlike many members of the media, I, who usually leave the house when my husband is involved with most of those TV athletic contests, loved the whole thing!

Well, I probably could have done without Howard Cosell and the boxing and my life would still have been complete without ever seeing a Greco-Roman wrestling match.

So much was written lambasting the TV coverage of the games, charging favoritism and over-exposure on behalf of the American athletes.

To these critics I say more power to ABC. It's about time the United States starts blowing its own horn.

Those kids were great and since most people watching Jim McKay would understandably be rooting for the athletes dressed in red, white and blue, ABC just practiced the old entertainment rule of "give the people what they want."

I understand that the other countries had their own TV versions rightfully featuring the feats of their athletes set for home broadcasts anyway.

Besides the frontrunners have always hogged most of the limelight in such broadcasts and, miracle of miracles, the good old U.S. was right up there a lot of the time.

I will admit that many of those exciting cliffhangers wherein the U.S. was victorious were almost too good to be true. The fact that the whole show emanated from the glitter, glamorous film capital added to the fairy-tale imagery.

Maybe Cathy Rigby and some of the other commentators let their bias towards the U.S. teams leak through but also remember most of them were not professional reporters schooled in objectivity.

So their human enthusiasms showed, but most of them tried to make-up for such slips by immediately giving the feats of the other athletes proper recognition.

All I know is, despite the fact that I learned to love and admire Peter Vidmar and Bart Conners, and I will buy a Retton doll for my grandchildren, the TV exposure introduced me to the world's greatest gymnasts, Ecaterina Szabo, Li Ning and Koji Gushiken.

And though I'm proud as punch of our women's and men's basketball teams, those great Chinese girls who skunked our fantastic female volleyball team have my unequivocal vote for the number one spot.

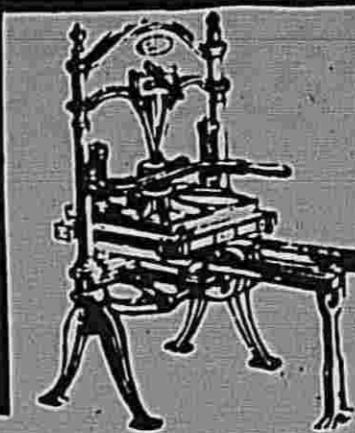

I think all that flag waving was way overdue and I was proudest of the team victories that the good old U.S. abounded in because it was the group wins that I really got a kick out of.

Call me corny but I got the biggest bang out of watching the swimming relay team and all the rest as they stood on the podium with tears in their eyes and the American flag flying the highest above them.

After all isn't that winning quality of gals with the stamina of a Joan Benoit or guys with the talent of diver Greg Louganis and the courage of former cancer victim, wrestler Jeff Blatnick, we need for our children to emulate not the violent natures of the member so the A-Team or the drug habits of some of those weird-looking rock stars.

So, those of you who prefer the patriotic soft sell, stay in the background U.S. of the "Carter Years" go crawl in your cave someplace.

It's wonderful to be proud to be from the good old gold-medal-winning U.S. and I don't care who knows it.

The Time Machine

FIFTY YEARS AGO: Aug. 16, 1934

After a chase of several miles, four gunmen were captured near Channel Lake by Deputy Sheriffs John Sweeney and George Tiffany. After suspecting the car the men were in was hot, a police chase took place complete with the deputies firing warning shots before the car stopped.

The four men in the car threw guns out of the car before they came out with their hands up. All had previous arrest records.

County Supt. W. C. Petty and five high school boys, including Howard Bonner from Antioch Township High School, left to attend the State Fair School.

The human bones of what appeared to be an American Indian woman about 61 inches tall was unearthed just north of the state line near Antioch by plumber Robert Wilton.

New Three-bedroom homes were being offered for $8,995 to be built on the lot of your choice. Mortgage payments were set to run $53 per month.

"The Valley Of The Kings" starring Robert Taylor and Eleanor Parker was at the local theater.

The Olympics were all well and good but old Annie Mae is looking forward to some great local athletic action as the Antioch High School Sequoits begin pigskin practice.

Can you believe it! Fall is just around the corner and I haven't even gotten my purple string bikini wet yet.

Antioch's Police Chief Chuck Miller and his boys really cracked down these past couple of weeks on those who haven't bought a village vehicle sticker yet.

If you're still remiss, rush into the village hall and plunk down your money because it will cost you more in fines each day that you put it off.

It looks like conubial congrats are due the new Mr. and Mrs. William Seemann. She is the former Irene Hahn.

Look-out folks, Jean Rockow won a new disc camera in a State Bank contest and word is that she's clicking at everything she sees.

A birthday celebration was held on Aug. 5 at John and Mary Furlan's in Petite Lake to honor Matilda Furlan, matriarch of the Furlan family.

Matilda is 93 years young and is still going strong. Talk about prolific! She has eight of her 12 children still living, 34 grandchildren and 27 great-grandchildren. Other "significant" family birthdays were celebrated at the same time.

Hey ladies, two of the stars of one of your favorite soap operas will make live appearances at Lakehurst Mall on Saturday and Sunday, Aug. 18 and 19.

Hurry down there and you will be able to see and maybe meet Peter Bergman, who plays Dr. Cliff Warner and Carmen Thomas, who plays teenager Hillary Wilson in "All My Children."

They'll be in the center court at 2 p.m. on both days.

We received an informative letter from Steve Lasco, the son of Robert and Patricia Lasco.

Steve is attending the University of Wisconsin in Madison and working towards degrees in history and journalism.

He hopes to graduate next May. While attending the university he is also holding down two jobs at the college, one as an aide in the public affairs department of the University

Last June he was named communications director of the Wisconsin Student Assn.

Steve says hello to all his friends in Antioch especially those on all the Sequoit athletic teams.

He predicts that the Badgers will whip the Fighting Illini when they meet in Champaign.

Junior golfers in tourney

A field of 55 junior golfers started play on a very hot and muggy morning at Spring Valley Country Club in the third annual junior championship. Rain fell on the competitors twice during the afternoon, but the golfers held up quite well.

Guy Leach won the 17-18 year old championship on the first hole of a sudden-death play-off against Brad Flodin of Twin Lakes and Scott Easley of Burlington.

All three golfers had finished with scores of 77. Leach made up two strokes on Flodin and Easley on the 17th and 18th holes when he made pars and they both bogied.

Leach got off to a slow start in the round going five over par after only four holes, but he then played the remaining 14 holes in two over par.

Charlie Brown of Racine was the only golfer to shoot both rounds in the 30's with a pair of three over par 38's for a winning score of 76. His closest competition came from Bill Anderson of Brighton who was four shots back at 80.

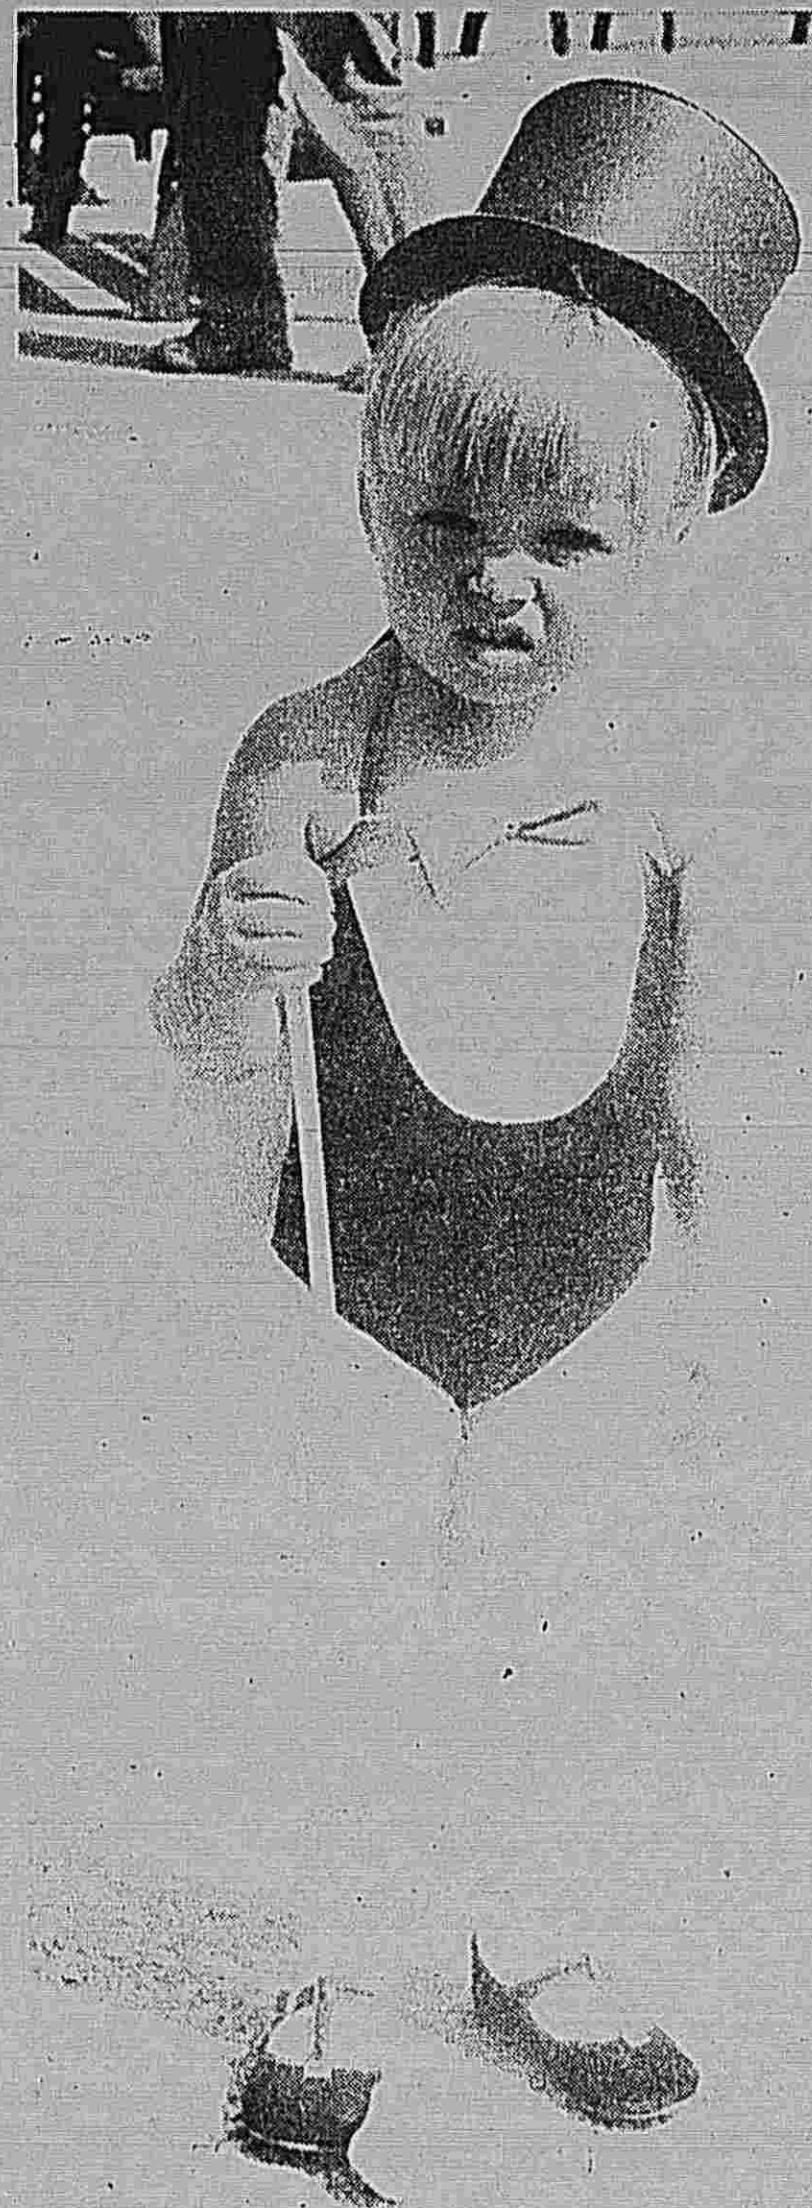

Rick Korjenek of Antioch shot the lowest nine holes of the tournament, a one over par 36 on the back nine, to finish tied with Dan Adams of Antioch and Troy McReynolds of Union Grove at 78.

Korjenek then went on to win a three-hole sudden-death play-off to finally capture the championship. The 18 hole played a significant role in determining the winner.

McReynolds, who finished first, made a double bogey six, Adams birdied it and Korjenek lipped-out a birdie putt and made par.

Ben Madsen and Scott Frasch of Racine and Antioch respectively finished tied at 85 in the 14 and under division. Madsen won the play-off on the second hole when he tapped in for a par four.

Kristin Scott finished two shots ahead of Renee Anne Fergus to win the girls' title, shooting a 90 in the process. Scott finished with pars on 17 and 18, while Fergus finished double bogey and bogey. All told Scott made up four shots in the final three holes.

Name Wehner engineer

RALPH C. WEHNER, a 25-year veteran civil engineer, has been named as the new district engineer for the Illinois Dept. of Transportation's six-county, Chicago metropolitan area.

Illinois Transportation Secretary John D. Kramer announced the appointment of Wehner effective Sept. 1.

Wehner replaces Sigmund C. Ziejewski, who is retiring from the department after more than 35 years of service.

Kramer said, "I am pleased to make this appointment because of Ralph Wehner's experience and competence. He has done an excellent job in his current post of district engineer for the 12-county, Highway District 2 area which covers northwestern Illinois. Mr. Wehner has already accumulated a wealth of experience in District 1 where he served for many years as the assistant district engineer."

"The department regrets the loss of Mr. Ziejewski — a person who is a dedicated public servant and a true advocate for improving transportation in northeastern Illinois. At this time, I want to publicly acknowledge the contributions Sigmund Ziejewski has made to the Chicago area," Kramer said.

Wehner, 49, joined the Illinois Dept. of Transportation in 1959. He is a graduate of the University of Iowa with a degree in civil engineering and is a registered professional engineer.

Wehner has been serving as the district engineer for the Highway District 2 since May of 1983. Wehner and his family live in the Elgin area.

SCALING

Question:
What does the dentist mean by the term scaling?

Answer:

Scaling simply stands for the ways plaque, tartar or stain are removed from teeth. Chances are, you've had your teeth scaled by the dentist or dental hygienist many times, and probably think of it under the broad category of cleaning.

There is a great range of instruments designed expressly for this purpose, so dentists have a wide choice of ways to gain access to all tooth points above the gumline. It takes a light, careful touch to remove tartar buildup from below the gumline since, for much of this part of the treatment, the material being removed is not visible to the dentist. Removal of plaque and calculus below the gum is commonly called curettage.

Lawmakers outline waterway proposal

by COLLEEN DEVRIES

Three lawmakers spoke at a public meeting at Antioch Community High School pushing formation of an agency to manage the Chain O' Lakes/Fox River waterways.

State Sen. Adeline Geo-Karis (R-Zion), State Sen. Jack Schaffer (R-Crystal Lake) and State Rep. Robert Churchill (R-Lake Villa) spoke to a group of about 50 people at a forum sponsored by the Northern Illinois Conservation Club (NICC).

The NICC itself is not taking a stand on the question, which will be put to the voters in November, but it was obvious what the lawmakers think of the idea.

The plan is not perfect, but it is all the area has, Churchill said.

"If voters say no, I don't know what to do," he said. "Those who say no will have to come forward with something."

"Let's do it and get it on the road," Churchill said.

He said that from the first time he ran for state representative, people have asked him if something could be done about the chain — something to keep it from dying.

Geo-Karis and Schaffer also spoke favorably of the plan.

The proposed agency, the Chain O' Lakes-Fox River Waterway Management Agency, would have seven members and would make reasonable and necessary rules and programs to maintain and improve the recreational waterway.

It also will construct, obtain, improve and maintain public recreational facilities. To accomplish its tasks, the agency would be funded by federal, state, county and local funds, in addition to receiving a fee from boaters on the chain. Any boating fee would have to be discussed at a public hearing. The agency could not set fees for fishing, snowmobiling, waterskiing and other activities.

Citizens at the meeting asked if any other way of protecting the chain could be used, but Churchill said it is a massive project.

Both Schaffer and Churchill indicated letters had been sent out to local governments to see if the local bodies would like to be responsible for regulating and maintaining the waterway.

The few that answered the letters indicated they would not be able to do it financially, Schaffer said.

One meeting attendee said the lakes are designed by nature to fill up and die, but Schaffer said human's use of the chain has speeded up the process.

"The death of the system has been speeded up," Schaffer said.

Another attendee, who has a summer home on the chain, suggested the local regulation route, but Churchill reiterated Schaffer's statement that local municipalities don't want to get together on an alternate to the agency.

"The towns that responded were interested but cannot afford to do it," Schaffer repeated.

Another member of the audience was confused by all the different versions of the proposal in circulation.

Schaffer emphasized the importance of obtaining the correct copy of the overview. He pointed out the final copy says, "To be voted upon in the November 6, 1984 general election."

The abundance of copies of the proposal stems from all the revisions it has undergone throughout its drafting.

"I have never seen a bill with so many meetings and (so much) input. So vote for or against it on the correct copy," he said. He admitted he would never have voted for the first draft of the proposal.

Road fatalities increase

The Superintendent of Illinois State Police, Laimutis A. Nargelenas, announced the latest figures which indicate that during the month of July, 1984, 131 persons died from injuries sustained from traffic accidents on Illinois streets and highways.

State Police, District 2, which covers Lake, McHenry, DeKalb, Kane and DuPage Counties, reports 112 persons have been killed in these counties since Jan. 1 of 1984. One hundred and two persons were also killed during the same period in 1983 in these counties.

A breakdown of the counties for statistics in July, 1984 shows Lake County, six fatalities; McHenry County had no fatalities; DuPage County had six fatalities; Kane County had six fatalities and DeKalb County, no fatalities.

As a comparison for July of 1983, Lake County had six fatalities; McHenry County had two fatalities; DuPage had one fatality; Kane County had one fatality; and DeKalb County had one fatality.

There have been 792 persons killed in the entire state in 1984. There were 835 persons killed in the same period of 1983 showing a decrease of 43.

Illinois roadway deaths decrease

Illinois traffic fatalities for June totalled 126, a 5.9 percent increase over the same period of 1983, but still show a decrease for the first six months of 1984, according to provisional figures released by the Illinois Dept. of Transportation and the Illinois State Police.

The provisional total of 647 fatalities for six months of 1984 is a decrease of 4.6 percent from the 678 deaths for the same period of 1983, and a decrease of 11.1 percent from the 728 deaths in 1982.

In June there were 126 deaths as the result of 116 accidents, an increase of 5.9 percent from the 119 provisional deaths in June 1983, and a decrease of 14.3 percent from the 147 fatalities in June 1982.

In June there were 19 pedestrians killed in 16 accidents; four persons killed in three railroad crossing accidents; 27 persons killed in 26 accidents involving motorcycles, and seven pedalcyclists killed in seven accidents.

Country Companies to open new office

A grand opening celebration is being scheduled for Country Companies' new office in Waukegan on Friday and Saturday, Aug. 17 and 18.

Part of the celebration will be an open house on Friday, Aug. 17 from 9 a.m. to 8 p.m. and Saturday, Aug. 18 from 9 a.m. to 3 p.m.

The office is located at 1611 Grand Ave., just west of Dunkin' Donuts.

Between 10 a.m. and noon on Aug. 18, refreshments will be served, including cake and ice-cream.

There will be family-oriented entertainment between 10 a.m. and noon, featuring clowns and balloons for the children.

The Country Companies new Waukegan office brings to three the total number of offices in Lake County. Each office provides a complete line of insurance for home, business and farm, along with other financial services.

Other offices include the central office in Grayslake at Rte. 45 and Center St. and a satellite office in Round Lake.

"The addition of the Waukegan office is another example of Country Companies' commitment to making our services easily available to our current customers, and to expand our list of satisfied customers in the Waukegan Area," said Gerald VanderMeer, agency manager.

The Waukegan office houses seven Country Companies agents. Country Companies is a Farm Bureau service.

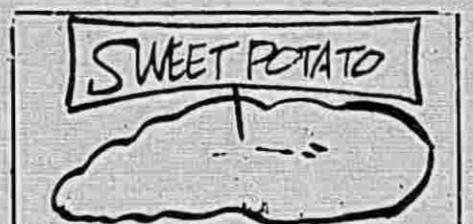

Check pressure

Free Blood Pressure Screening will be offered to the public on Thursday, Aug. 16, at St. Therese Area Trauma Satellite (STATS), located on Rte. 59, just south of Grand Ave. in Lake Villa.

No registration is required, just stop by between 11 a.m. until 4 p.m.

The medical term for high blood pressure is "hypertension." Left untreated, high blood pressure increases the risk of premature illness or death from coronary heart disease, stroke and heart or kidney failure.

One out of seven Americans has high blood pressure. Yet, three-fourths of our people still do not know all the facts about this dangerous disease.

Sweet potatoes were unknown in Europe until Columbus found them in the West Indies and took them back with him. They have turned into one of the world's cheapest food crops.

—LEGAL NOTICE—

There will be a meeting of the Planning Committee of the Antioch Township Library on August 22, 1984, at 7:00 P.M. in the Meeting Room of the Library.

The committee plans to discuss computerization, building repairs and staff development in connection with the 1985-86 budget. The public is welcome.

RTA announces its monthly ticket giveaway

Regular users of public transportation can win free monthly transit tickets under a new program announced by Regional Transportation Authority (RTA) Chairman John D. Kramer.

Kramer said the RTA will begin holding monthly giveaways for free tickets next month.

"It's another bonus for our regular customers, and we hope it will help spur the sales of monthly tickets," Kramer said. "They're the cheapest, most convenient way of using the system."

WITHIN THE first 10 days of each month, riders should write their name, address and phone number on the previous month's ticket and mail it to RTA Ticket Drawing, 300 N. State St., Chicago 60610.

It can be any type of monthly ticket: RTA, CTA, commuter rail or Link-Up.

The RTA will hold a giveaway and winners will receive the following month's ticket free.

The RTA will award three commuter rail tickets and five RTA or Link-Up tickets each month.

RTA TICKETS are good for unlimited travel on CTA buses and trains and RTA/Suburban Bus Division buses. Link-Up tickets are good for a feeder bus ride at both ends of a commuter train trip.

Winners will receive whichever type of monthly ticket they mailed in. Those who send in CTA tickets will receive RTA tickets good on the entire CTA system.

The first giveaway will be held in mid-August, Kramer said.

Riders should mail in their July tickets between Aug. 1 and 10. Winners will receive September tickets by the end of August.

"THIS PROGRAM is one of several designed to generate interest in monthly tickets," Kramer said. "Monthly tickets spare riders the inconvenience of searching for change or tokens and they give them the freedom of unlimited use of the system. And they help the transit system, too, by improving the cash flow and reducing the amount of currency and change we have to process."

Kramer noted that RTA staff is working on two other programs to offer added benefits to monthly pass holders.

Staff members are asking Chicago area merchants to offer discounts to holders of monthly passes.

"We're hoping to line up restaurants, drug stores, hotels, theaters—practically any business that offers a consumer product or service and would be willing to discount it to those who display a monthly pass," Kramer said. The staff hopes to have the program underway by October.

The RTA also is encouraging employers to buy monthly passes and resell them at a discount to their employees.

Business women to picnic

The Little Fort Charter Chapter of American Business Women's Assn. will hold its annual picnic meeting at Margaret Cole's home on Wednesday, Aug. 15.

Cocktails will be at 6 p.m. with dinner promptly at 7 p.m.

For reservations call (312) 395-0172.

"When it rings, they're not calling to chitchat."

— Bruce Renwick
Electrical Engineer, Operations
Commonwealth Edison

"That's because Collins is designed to do what no other large station can. Get on line in a hurry. In half the normal time. In spite of the thousand-degree steam and two-thousand-pound pressure that'd fracture regular turbine rotors if they had to start up fast. And I'm talkin' rotors eight feet in diameter that weigh more than a hundred and fifty tons."

"I remember one miserable August we got the call at 2 a.m. 'Give us all you've got. All five units, right now.'

"Couldn't have moved any faster if we were on roller skates. Went from zero to two-and-a-half-billion watts in five hours. That's an all-time record. Didn't have any choice."

"Makes you feel a little like Lee Smith chalkin' up another save."

Commonwealth Edison
Doing things right.
And proud of it.

"They're calling for help."

"The voice at the other end belongs to one of the people at Commonwealth Edison who keeps tabs on the whole generating system. And there's trouble."

"Maybe a storm just took out some of our transmission lines. Maybe a heat wave has every air conditioner for a hundred miles in high gear."

"Whatever the maybe is, one thing's for sure. The demand is outrunning the supply. They need more power. And they need it fast."

"That's the reason we're at this end of the line."

"We're the one generating station in Edison's system that's special. That's there to back up all the rest. Collins Station."

Burge attends FHA confab

Marie Burge, granddaughter of the Warren Polleys of Antioch, junior at Williamsville High School, Sherman, Ill., was one of

1,500 young men and women home economics students attending Future Homemakers of America's (FHA) annual leadership meeting, in July, at the Palmer House Hotel, Chicago.

Burge is the 1984-85 state president of the Future Homemakers of America

Illinois Association and gave the opening welcome address at the convention. At the national meeting she was involved in a number of leadership training sessions, including a state presidents' workshop, where she made plans to lead state efforts in a chapter recognition program honoring Future Homemakers of America's 40th Anniversary.

The five-day meeting centered around the student-developed theme Dynamic Dimensions: Confronting Challenges. During the week, delegates had a choice of over 50 hours of leadership skill-building events to attend. Topical sessions addressed issues such as teenage pregnancy and parenthood, drug and alcohol abuse, fitness and nutrition, family relations, intercultural relations, handicap awareness and peer pressure.

One of the highlights of this year's national meeting was the kick-off of Future Homemakers of America's 40th Anniversary celebration. Chapters nationwide will celebrate throughout the year with special events, publicity campaigns and membership drives.

All breed dog show to be held at Lambs

An all breed conformation and obedience fun match will be held from 10 a.m. to 4:30 p.m. on Sunday, Aug. 26 at The Lambs Inc., located at the junction of I-94 and Rte. 176, two miles east of Libertyville.

Admission and parking for the event are free and the competition is sponsored by Little Fort Kennel Club.

Pure bred dogs of all ages are eligible for the match and will be judged in several categories including sporting, junior showmanship, terrier, herding, working hounds, toy and non-sporting.

Champions and major pointed dogs may not compete.

Puppies and adults, and male and female dogs will compete in separate classes and ribbons and trophies will be awarded to winners in each class.

New dog owners are encouraged to enter their pure breeds to gain experience for future competition.

The pre-entry fee of $3.50 may be sent to Lesly Johnson, 911 Porter St., Waukegan 60085. Additional entries are $2. Gate entry is $4.50 and additional gate entries are $2.50.

Also featured that day will be a one-hour water rescue demonstration performed by highly trained Newfoundland dogs.

The dogs are well known for their abilities in aquatic environments and have long served as working companions to man.

The Lambs Country Inn Restaurant and shops will also be open from 9 a.m. to 5 p.m. and all purchases benefit The Lambs, a non-profit community where mentally retarded adults live, work and gain respect in an environment of care and concern.

For more information about the match, call Pat Prellwitz at (312) 336-8753.

Crime Stoppers seeks crimes against children

In a continuing effort to target specific areas of criminal activity which are of great concern to the public at large, Lake County Crime Stoppers Inc. is seeking information about crimes against children, said Ronald Hauri, executive director for the not-for-profit corporation.

Hauri stated that child victimization is the second in a series of broad categories of crime which have been targeted by Lake County Crime Stoppers.

In July, Lake County Crime Stoppers featured the sale and service of alcohol to underage persons.

That particular Crime of the Week generated so much information and public response that many of those cases are still under investigation, said Det. Curt Corsi, police coordinator for Crime Stoppers.

"We feel that Lake County Crime Stoppers is the ideal vehicle to use for these targeted categories of crime. Many people have specific information or are at least generally aware of some criminal conduct, but they feel there is no agency to which they can give the information without revealing their identity," Hauri said.

"The timing of this Crime of the Week is extremely important in light of the beginning of the new school season, when those who would victimize our children are drawn to the locations where children gather," Hauri added.

Lake County Crime Stoppers takes information about all types of crime and now wants to address child victimization in an effort to apprehend those particular offenders who prey on our children.

Corsi said that due to the established reputation of Crime Stoppers and its guarantee of anonymity for the callers, persons with such information will now know that they can give the information in complete confidence.

Hauri added that Lake County Crime Stoppers does not want to take the place of any organization or agency which deals in various areas of Child Victimization.

However, Crime Stoppers can enhance the efforts of these agencies and deal simultaneously with all types of crimes against children.

Additionally, the incentive of cash rewards for the information is an aspect that the other groups cannot offer.

Hauri concluded by saying that whether it is abuse

(sexual or physical), molesting, pornography, or narcotics, we want everyone to call with their information.

Seniors set sale ballgame

The Antioch Area Senior Center will be conducting a giant yard sale for one day only on Friday, Aug. 24, from 9 a.m. to 4 p.m.

There promises to be something for every type of bargain hunter from kitchenware, to tools, to clothing, to stereo equipment.

Due to popular demand the center has again scheduled a trip to Wrigley Field. Seniors will attend a ballgame on Sept. 11 between the Chicago Cubs and the Philadelphia Phillies.

For the price of $7.50, a terrace reserve seat and transportation on an economy motor coach will be provided.

The bus will depart from the center at 11:30 a.m.

Area seniors are encouraged to call the center, (312) 395-7120, to reserve a ticket.

During the coming year, Burge will work with other FHA student officers in Illinois to plan leadership meetings and topical sessions to be attended by many of the state's 11,854 FHA Home Economics Related Occupation members. There are 459 chapters in Illinois.

Marie is the daughter of Randolph and Susan Polley Burge.

Future Homemakers of America is a national vocational education student organization founded with 2,397 chapters in June 1945. Since then it has involved over 7 million young people and has grown to over 12,000 chapters. Today's innovative programs in junior and senior high schools touch the lives of 350,000 young men and women in 50 states, the District of Columbia, Puerto Rico and the Virgin Islands.

Phone company finishes $14 million refund

Illinois Bell's refund of $14.4 million to its residential customers in most areas outside Chicago will end with July bills.

Each residential customer received an average $7.64 refund per access line.

The Illinois Commerce Commission last December ordered Illinois Bell to apply the credit starting in January to customers in Access Area C, where the company's rates — and costs — are highest.

Customers received $1.14 per line for the first six months of 1984, and 80 cents in July.

Illinois Bell's customers are divided geographically into three access areas, with access line rates based on the cost of providing access in each area.

Access Area A includes customers in Chicago's Loop and Near-Loop areas, where costs are lowest.

Access Area B includes the rest of Chicago and certain adjacent suburbs, where costs are somewhat higher.

Access Area C includes the areas Illinois Bell served in the rest of the state, where costs are highest.

Funds for the credit resulted from $14.4 million that AT&T paid to Illinois Bell for expenses incurred during the formation of two AT&T subsidiaries, Advanced Mobile Phone Service and AT&T subsidiaries, Advanced Mobile Phone Service and AT&T Information Systems.

Most of the expenses were for salaries, systems design, testing, installation, support systems and training programs that supported the development of enhanced services or advanced mobile phone service.

These activities were carried out before Illinois Bell's Jan. 1, 1984, divestiture from AT&T.

It provides a framework for the improvement of transit service in the county and includes general findings and specific recommendations for the next five years and on into the future.

The Lake County Transportation Plan, a joint effort by the Regional Transportation Authority (RTA) and Lake County officials, has been updated.

Copies of the plan are now available for review at libraries throughout Lake County.

The transit plan is the culmination of a 14-month study involving Lake County officials and staff, and the RTA.

It provides a framework for the improvement of transit service in the county and includes general findings and specific recommendations for the next five years and on into the future.

The Lake County Transportation Review Committee, chaired by Dick Welton, Mayor of the Village of Gurnee, was composed of nine elected officials appointed by the Lake County Board, the Lake County Municipal League, and the Lake County Council of Mayors.

In addition, Great Lakes Naval Base was represented on the committee. The committee developed, reviewed and evaluated recommendations with regard to existing and new transit service.

County judges emphasize performing public service

Associate Judge Fred A. Geiger of the 19th Judicial Circuit Court proved that he meant business when he sentenced 18-year-old Calvin Butler of Waukegan for failure to perform his sentence of public service as part of the conditions of his sentence to probation.

Butler, who has been previously sentenced to a term of probation for theft and burglary was ordered at that time by Judge Geiger to perform 250 hours of public service and restitution to the public for his offenses.

Public service is a program operated by the Dept. of Court Services wherein convicted offenders are ordered to work for a public body or charitable institution as restitution to society in general.

At present, Lake County Judges order over 6,000 hours of public service per month in cooperation with over 100 public and private not-for-profit agencies.

In sentencing the defendant to the Dept. of Corrections for a term of four years for finding the young man to be in violation of his probation Judge Geiger stressed that his orders are clear and that a sentence of public service must be taken seriously.

The youth was taken into custody immediately for transport to the Dept. of Corrections to begin serving his sentence.

Any public or charitable not-for-profit agency wishing to participate in the public service program may call the Court Services Resource division at (312) 689-6664.
